More than 200 journals span the range of chemistry and materials science sub-disciplines: organic, inorganic, and physical chemistry, analytical chemistry, catalysis, theoretical and computational chemistry, electrochemistry, food science, and polymer science, optical and electronic materials, as well as surfaces and interfaces. This includes journals published in cooperation with leading societies such as the German, French, Spanish, Italian and Polish chemical societies, the American Oil Chemists’ Society, or the American Society for Mass Spectrometry.

Highlights from the collection

All journals are available on link.springer.com

- Enhanced browsing features
- Semantic Linking delivers more related content
- Improved search functionality – including searching by citation
- Easy filters for Online First and Open Access articles
- And much more
Springer journals in Chemistry & Materials Science feature ground-breaking articles on emerging topics, including:

- Analytical Chemistry
- Biochemistry
- Biotechnology
- Electrochemistry
- Physical Chemistry
- Nanotechnology
- Biomaterials
- Characterization & Evaluation of Materials
- Mechanics
- Microscopy

Prominent contributors are leaders in their fields and include:

- Dan Shechtman, 2011 Nobel Prize in Chemistry
- Robert Grubbs, 2005 Nobel Prize in Chemistry
- Gabor Somorjai, University of California at Berkeley
- Jean-Marie Lehn, 1987 Nobel Prize in Chemistry
- C. Barry Carter, Editor-in-Chief, Journal of Materials Science
- Robert Huggins, Stanford University

Why Springer Journal Collection Packages?

- Available 24/7, on and off-campus
- Includes electronic supplementary materials such as tables, graphs and videos
- Articles are searchable by subject area, publication title, topic, author citation or keywords
- Comprehensive support. Once subscribed, you will receive the resources you need to make the most of your investment
- More than 60,000 librarians worldwide choose SpringerLink for online scientific content
