175 years ago, Springer was founded in Berlin. We are celebrating this extraordinary anniversary with 175 of our most outstanding books. Today, Springer is part of Springer Nature. Every day, around the globe, our brands and imprints support the important work of millions of people – helping researchers and scientists to discover, students to learn and professionals to achieve their goals and ambitions.