What to do if you suspect plagiarism

(b) Suspected plagiarism in a published article

Reader informs editor about suspected plagiarism

Thank reader and say you plan to investigate
Get full documentary evidence if not already provided

Check degree of copying

Clear plagiarism (unattributed use of large portions of text and/or data, presented as if they were by the plagiarist)

Contact corresponding author in writing, ideally enclosing signed authorship statement (or cover letter) stating that work is original/the author's own and documentary evidence of plagiarism

Author responds

No response

Unsatisfactory explanation/admits guilt

Contact all authors and tell them what you plan to do

Consider publishing retraction Inform editor of other journal(s) involved or publisher of plagiarised books

Consider informing author's superior and/or person responsible for research governance at author's institution

Minor copying of short phrases only (e.g. in discussion of research paper)
No misattribution of data

Contact author in neutral terms/expressing disappointment/explaining journal's position
Discuss publishing correction giving reference to original paper(s) if this has been omitted

Inform reader (and plagiarised author(s) if different) of journal's actions

If no response, keep contacting institution every 3–6 months
If no resolution, consider contacting other authorities, e.g. ORI in US, GMC in UK

Satisfactory explanation (honest error/journal instructions unclear/very junior researcher)

Consider publishing retraction Inform editor of other journal(s) involved or publisher of plagiarised books

Consider informing author's superior and/or person responsible for research governance at author's institution

Inform author(s) of your action

Inform readers and victim(s) of outcome/action

Note: The instructions to authors should include a definition of plagiarism and state the journal's policy on it
